

Style Upgrade and Makeover
Municipal Clerks' Association of New Jersey
Annual Education Conference – “Everything Counts”
April 25-27, 2017 - The Palace at Somerset Park, 333 Davidson Ave., Somerset, NJ

- Do you know a clerk who would greatly appreciate a style upgrade?
- Do you know a clerk who is in need of a little pampering and boost in self-confidence?
- Maybe that clerk is you!

The 2017 MCANJ Education Conference is scheduled for April 25, 26 and 27, 2017, at The Palace at Somerset Park in Somerset. In keeping with our conference theme that “Everything Counts,” on April 25, 2017, we are going to surprise two clerks (one male and one female) with a complete style upgrade and makeover.

These clerks will receive a complimentary private consultation with our keynote speaker Image Consultant, Carol E. Ridolphi. The winners will be announced at the conclusion of Carol’s presentation. Then, Carol will assist the two winners in selecting new business attire including shoes and accessories. She will also have a hair stylist and make-up professional assist with the makeover. This makeover is courtesy of MCANJ—a prize worth $1000 or more for each winner. The reveal of the newly styled clerks will be held during the Annual Dinner on Wednesday evening, April 26th.

Once we receive the nominations, we will contact the nominees to obtain their consent to participate. They will be asked to provide two photos and will be required to fill out a brief questionnaire. You have the option of remaining anonymous when you make your nomination(s). Please know that you are free to nominate yourself too.

The deadline to submit nominations is March 17, 2017. Click Here to fill out a nomination form. If you have any questions, please contact Denise Szabo at president@njclerks.org.
