CHECKLIST FOR CEREMONIAL RESOLUTION REQUESTS

- Names of honorees or organizations clearly indicated and correctly spelled
- Order of sponsors verified
- Purpose of the resolution clearly specified
- Essential dates indicated
- A "Due Date" or "Print By___" noted, if needed
- County names noted where town names might be unclear
- Descriptive information on the honoree provided
- Full name if group and group's leaders clearly designated, when necessary
- Background material such as a resume, biography or newspaper story, is included if available
- Important details highlighted
- All information channeled to the Office of the Municipal Clerk

GUIDELINES AND SUGGESTIONS FOR CEREMONIAL RESOLUTIONS

Who is being honored?

Please make certain names are spelled correctly. In a wedding anniversary request, be sure to include both first names as well as the wife's maiden name (not just Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Doe)

Who are the sponsors?

To avoid confusion, please list names if sponsors in the exact order you want them to appear on the printed resolution.

Why is the person being honored?

The purpose of the resolution must be clearly specified. Background information such as a newspaper clipping, resume, or invitation is always appreciated, but it may not indicate to us the intended purpose of the resolution. (A three-year-old newspaper clipping about a Fireman of the Year may be sent as background material when the fireman retires, but we need to know that the resolution is honoring his retirement).

When will an event take place or when did it occur?

Specific dates are essential in anniversary and birthday resolutions and do provide a timeliness to other resolutions. Jotting the publications date in the margin of a newspaper clipping facilitates any extra research that must be done.

When would you like the resolution completed?

A resolution request without a specific completion date is placed in the "ASAP File" to be done after all those with a date or other indicated priority. We earnestly endeavor to complete a draft copy on or before a "Due Date, therefore submission of a "Due Date" is important.

Where have the major events of an honoree's life or career occurred?

Resolution writers often like to include a person's place of birth, where he or she was educated, what New Jersey community and county he or she lives in (although not the street address), where he or she works. For popular location names (like Washington Township – there are six located in different New Jersey counties), it is helpful if you not the county or state, if outside New Jersey.

What special attributes, characteristics or achievements distinguish the honoree?

Any brief description you can give us of his or her character, standing among his of her friends and colleagues, and relationship to the people around him or her will assist us in preparing a meaningful, one-of-a kind resolution. While this kind of information may not be part of the factual data that forms the framework for the resolution, your response here can lend color and individuality to the resolution and provide the reader or listener with a sense of the honoree's personality.

What are the special considerations when honoring groups?

Often we like to mention the names of current leaders of a group that is being honored and to note the aims and purposes of a service or non-profit organization, particularly as they pertain to the group's work in New Jersey. State these whenever possible. If an organization is well-known by its initials (V.F.W. or U.N.I.C.O.), we usually spell out the whole name the first time it's mentioned in the resolution and use the initials thereafter.

How can you assist us to include the information you consider especially important to this resolution?

Highlighting information with a special marker or red pen in a lengthy biography or resume is an excellent way to call our attention to specific details you would like included in the resolution.

Where do you send or deliver your request?

All Ceremonial Resolution requests should be made at the Office of the Municipal Clerk.

May 15, 2000

As Mayor of the District of Columbia, it is my distinct pleasure to express sincere appreciation to the Washington Mystics and the Houston Comets for the unselfish giving of their time to benefit the youth of our city.

Those organizations and persons whose contributions have meant the realization of greater opportunities for others are worthy of public praise and recognition. As a result of your achievements as true role models and community standard bearers, the Washington Mystics and the Houston Comets are two such organizations who merit the esteem of all people. It is appropriate to honor you and call upon all the residents of our great city to join me in saluting a group of woman whose work has set a standard of excellence. Your on-going efforts to promote the growth and development of our youth stand as an example for others to emulate.

I would, also, like to take this opportunity to thank the WNBA for their support and assistance in preparing this special event. Letter of Condolence,

To The Family Of

Richard Brooks

October 29, 2000

As Mayor of the District of Columbia, I wish to express sorrow at the loss of your loved one - Richard Brooks.

Each of us has the opportunity to touch the lives of others. Richard managed to lend his talent, energy and spirit to many. He was a political pioneer who was involved with his community, church, and family. Richard's unconditional love for people will never be forgotten and especially to his family and friends. He will be missed, but his memories will be a light for those who knew and loved him.

Those we love must some day pass Beyond our present sight... And leave us the world we know Without their radiant light.

But we know that like a candle Their lovely light will shine... To brighten up another place More perfect – More divine.

Richard has passed this realm to heaven Where he shines so warm and bright. Our loved ones live forever more In God's eternal light.

On behalf of the residents of the District of Columbia, may the peace of God embrace you and His love be your constant source of strength.
